DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

Figures 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

A. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification states on page 6, lines 1-8 that the valve plate (11) has a first and second discharging valve (112, 112'). Figures 4 and 5 of the specification, however, clearly show the reference numerals (112, 112') pertain to discharge flow holes, not valves. The claims recite the discharging valves. Applicant must clarify the apparent contradiction in the disclosure.

In addition, claims 1 and 2 recite a first and second settlement unit for positioning the discharging valve at the valve plate and for settling the stopper at the discharging valve, respectively. The first and second settlement units are recited in the claims to be separate and distinct elements from the stopper or the discharging valve. The specification, however, discloses the first and second settlement units (132, 152) to be integral with either the stopper (150) or the discharging valve (130).

B. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In view of the above paragraph, the recitation in claim 1, lines 3 and 4 of the valve plate having "more than one discharging valve" is vague and indefinite. In addition, the recitation in claim 1, lines 6 of the discharging valve being provided "for opening and closing the discharging valve" is vague and indefinite in that it is not known how the discharging valve opens and closes itself. Lastly, the recitation in claim 1, lines 11 and 19 of there being a "right position" for controlling the discharging valve is vague and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ahn (U.S. patent no. 5,887,622), as far as the claims are understood in view of the above paragraphs. The patent to Ahn discloses a valve assembly for a compressor comprising a valve plate (35), a discharging valve (34), a stopper (33) and a fixing member (31). A first and second settlement unit (36, 44) is provided for positioning the discharging valve at the valve plate at the "right" position and for settling the stopper at the discharging valve. The valve plate (35) lacks having a second discharging hole. It would have been an obvious multiplication of parts to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided a second discharging hole so that the discharging valve can control the flow through a plurality of outlets.

Art Unit: 3753

Allowabl Subject Matt r

Claims 3 and 4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Kim (U.S. patent no. 5,178,183) and Yoon (U.S. patent no. 5,577,901) are cited for the additional showing of compressor valves having a discharging valve, a stopper and a fixing member.
